

PUBLIC ADVOCACY FORUM

THE ELECTIONS: AND THE WINNER IS...SCIENCE?

Location: Walter E. Washington Convention Center, Room 152B

Time: Tuesday, Nov. 18, 3 – 5 p.m.

Join renowned science policy and political experts to discuss U.S. Presidential and Congressional election results and the potential impact on science funding and policy. With U.S. science funding at a standstill, this forum will highlight the prospects for improving support for the research enterprise by examining the future of science funding and advocacy.

Harold Varmus, MD
*Former NIH Director
Nobel Laureate, Medicine
President, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center*

Wendell Primus, PhD
Senior Policy Advisor, Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives Nancy Pelosi

The Honorable John Porter
*Chair, Research!America Board of Directors
U.S. Representative (R-IL), 1980-2001*

Moderated by Katrina Kelner, PhD
Deputy Editor, Life Sciences, Science

Welcoming Remarks by John Morrison, PhD
*Chair, SfN Government and Public Affairs Committee
Dean of Basic Sciences and the Graduate School of Biological Sciences, Mount Sinai School of Medicine*

Please RSVP to advocacy@sfn.org

For your convenience, please use
M Street entrance, located near the Mt. Vernon Square 7th Street –
Convention Center Metro.

